

Course Name: French II

Prerequisite: Middle School French or French I

Course Code #: H5121

Level: Accelerated

Year: 5X

Credits: 5

Course Description: This course is designed for students who have experienced high achievement in their study of French at the Middle School Level and who have demonstrated language proficiency at the intermediate-low level. Students will build upon their previous experience in French and will continue to develop their skills in interpretive listening, reading, and viewing, interpersonal speaking and writing and presentational speaking and writing. Students are expected to work more independently and be more creative and spontaneous with the language, while a greater emphasis is placed on accuracy in written and oral expression through a more intensive study of grammatical functions. Thematic units focus on the integration of culture and language and will provide students with opportunities to apply communication skills to real-life situational contexts. Pre-AP instruction is begun in this course within the thematic units of study.

Throughout the course emphasis is placed on using the language communicatively in authentic situations. French will be used at a target of 90% of the time by the instructor as he/she leads the class through student-centered activities actively that engage the learners in producing French in meaningful contexts. Students at the accelerated level are also expected to produce French at a target of 90% of the time during instruction.

Course Proficiencies: Students who successfully complete this course will have developed the ability to communicate at the intermediate low proficiency level in three modes of communication:

- Interpretive - the ability to understand spoken and written communication within appropriate cultural contexts;
- Interpersonal - the ability to engage in direct oral and/or written communication with others; and
- Presentational - the ability to present, orally and/or in writing, information, concepts and ideas to an audience of listeners or readers with whom there is no immediate interaction.

In addition, students will have developed Intercultural Communication skills at the Novice proficiency level. The American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages has defined these novice skills in terms of “Can-Do” statements. In this course students will target the following “Can-Do” statements for Intercultural Communication:

- In my own and other cultures, I can identify products and practices to help me understand perspectives.
- I can interact at a survival level in some familiar everyday contexts.

Students will also begin to target the following intermediate Intercultural Communication skills:

- In my own and other cultures I can make comparisons between products and practices to help me understand perspectives.
- I can interact at a functional level in some familiar contexts.

Lastly, students will acquire language skills in the five areas outlined in the National Standards for Learning Languages: Communication, Cultures, Connections, Comparisons, and Communities, also known as The Five C's of world language education.

Alignment to New Jersey Student Learning Standards:

The New Jersey Student Learning Standards include Preschool Teaching and Learning Standards, as well as nine K-12 standards for the following content areas. These areas include: 21st Century Life and Careers, Comprehensive Health and Physical Education, English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, Technology, Visual and Performing Arts and World Languages. The standard for language learning in New Jersey reinforces the reading, writing, speaking and listening skills that are targeted across the standards for each content area.

The 2014 New Jersey Student Learning Standard for World Languages is as follows:

7.1 All students will be able to use a world language in addition to English to engage in meaningful conversation, to understand and interpret spoken and written language, and to present information, concepts, and ideas, while also gaining an understanding of the perspectives of other cultures. Through language study, they will make connections with other content areas, compare the language and culture studied with their own, and participate in home and global communities.

This standard is further divided into proficiency levels and three strands, one for each mode of communication. The proficiency levels are in line with the national performance descriptors as released by the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign languages. These guidelines indicate six different levels of proficiency that can be expected at the K-12 level of language learning. Throughout the course, students will be working to demonstrate proficiency at the Intermediate Low level in all three modes of communication including: interpretive communication, interpersonal communication and presentational communication. The specific standards for this course are outlined below within in each mode of communication.
